Program Chair: Ivan DeQuesada, M.D., neuroradiologist, medical director, Envision South Arlington, Radiology Associates of North Texas, P.A.

Objectives: Upon completion of this activity, the participants should be able to:

- Provide a historical overview demonstrating the absence of infectious diseases in the development of bioethics.
- Describe 3 ethical considerations unique to infectious diseases.
- Review the strengths and weaknesses of applying the traditional 4 principles by Beauchamp and Childress to these 3 considerations.
- Identify opportunities to implement these transdisciplinary ethical considerations into clinical decision making to enhance patient care

Target Audience: This interprofessional activity is designed for physicians and nurses. We also invite social workers, health care providers and hospital administration to attend.

Accreditation: In support of improving patient care, Texas Health Resources is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

This course complies with the continuing education statutes and rules of the Texas Behavioral Health Executive Council.
