Objectives: Upon completion of this activity, the participants should be able to:

- Recognize that severity of injury to an infant is not equivalent to risk to an infant
- Apply evidenced based recommendations to appropriately evaluate an infant with injury
- Discuss increasing morbidity and mortality with recurrent episodes of child physical abuse
- Propose an approach to the physical exam that maximize opportunities to identify injury
- Discuss how the BEST Timeout Model can be used to improve ethical decision-making and reduce the impact of bias among the interprofessional healthcare team when considering reporting cases to Child Protective Services

Target Audience: This interdisciplinary activity is designed for physicians and nurses caring for trauma patients. We also invite physical therapists, occupational therapists, speech language pathologists and other allied health professionals to attend.

Format: Didactic presentation with Q&A session
