In person: Sue De Mielle Room

Objectives: Upon completion of this activity, the participants should be able to:

- Describe why avoiding delirium is a high priority for hospitalized patients
- Identify patients at high risk for developing delirium
- State two interventions that can be performed in hopes of preventing delirium from occurring
- Collaborate with interprofessional team members to implement interventions that decrease the duration of delirium in hospitalized patients.

Target Audience: This interprofessional activity is designed for physicians and nurses in the following specialties: emergency medicine, surgery (general and trauma), orthopedics, radiology, plastic surgery, internal medicine, family medicine and pediatrics. We also invite other members of the healthcare team to join this conference.

Format: Didactic lecture with question and answer session

Accreditation: In support of improving patient care, Texas Health Resources is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.
