Objectives: Upon completion of this activity, the participants should be able to:

- Define malingering and distinguish it from factitious disorder, somatic symptoms presentation and genuine psychiatric illness
- Recognize clinical patterns and contextual factors that raise concern for feigned or exaggerated symptoms
- Apply interprofessional strategies to ethically assess and manage suspected malingering while promoting effective communication and coordinated care among healthcare team members

Target Audience: This interprofessional activity is designed for psychiatrists and licensed psychotherapists. We also invite psychologists, nurses, occupational/physical/recreational therapists, mental health technicians, clergy, administrators, EMS and other professionals working with behavioral health patients to attend.

Format: Didactic presentation with Q&A session

Accreditation: In support of improving patient care, Texas Health Resources is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.
